

AgriBioDinamica CERTIFICATION

The AgriBioDinamica Certification is a checking about the quality of the product but also an action in order to help and support farmers who decide to create high-quality products in compliance with the environmental cycle, offering the consumer an excellent product, paying attention to every single stage of production, processing and marketing. It will be an absolute novelty compared to the current certification. It will be an absolute novelty in front of the current state of poverty and sadness of the actual certification that too often rewards the bureaucracy at the expense of quality.
